Dates: Spring Semester

Program Description: This program guarantees an unpaid, for-credit internship placement of at least 18-20 hours a week in the field of your choice. Develop your professional skills, your ability to communicate across cultures, and gain real work experience that will jump-start your career in today's competitive job market. Prior to the program, our partner IES will work with students to find the ideal internship placement that fulfills their career goals. If they do not currently work with a business or organization in your field of interest, they will search for a placement that works for your interests. Students will take two courses with the Furman Faculty Director and two additional courses they select through City University-London.
