Emergency and Medical Insurance: Students traveling outside the United States will automatically have access to Furman’s medical and emergency insurance coverage and benefits (“Coverage”) to supplement their US insurance policy through Educational and Institutional Insurance Administrators (EIIA) during the Program. Students who need medical assistance will pay for services upfront and may request a reimbursement through the EIIA claims process. The policy statement summary, insurance card, and the instructions for submitting a claim can be found online at <http://www.eiaa.org/international-travel/>. Student further acknowledges that Furman University is not an agent or representative of EIIA and has no control and/or influence over EIIA’s processing of any claim Student may make under such Coverage.

Trip cancellation and interruption insurance are NOT included. These types of insurance may help families recover travel expenses if an emergency prevents the student from traveling. Students desiring such coverage should contact their insurance provider or shop online for a policy.
