

Furman University Study Away Program: Academic, Environmental, Physical & Health Expectations

Program: British Isles

Dates: Fall Semester

Program Description: The British Isles Program will travel to Stratford-upon-Avon, Edinburgh, the Lake District, and London. From each home base, students work with an array of acclaimed actors, directors, theatrical producers and scholars, as well as leading scholars of British literature and history, cutting-edge museum curators, and state-of-the-art archivists. The program starts with the Edinburgh International Fringe Festival -the catalyst for many world premieres that move to the West End, moves to Stratford-upon-Avon to study and work with the Royal Shakespeare Company and see a full season of their plays, travels to the majestic Lake District to be immersed in Romantic-era countryside and study within acclaimed literary archives, and then rounds out with a 7-week stay in London to experience immersive learning within a world capital destination.
